Considerations to apply to the Atlantic Salmon Fishery in West Greenland in 2026

West Greenland Commission Intersessional

Agenda

- ▶ Key findings 01

- ▶ Reporting process 02

- ▶ Campaigns 03

Key findings

1. Overall, there is a noticeable delay between the catch date and the reporting date.
2. The current reporting process involves multiple manual steps, which contributes to delays and increases the gap between catch and reporting.
3. The gap between catch and reporting dates has widened from 2024 to 2025, partly due to a reduction in reporting campaigns, such as SMS reminder services for license holders.
4. There is a need for improved and more consistent communication campaigns to remind license holders of their reporting obligations.

Reporting process

Reporting of salmon catches

The current reporting process involves multiple manual steps, which contributes to delays and increases the gap between catch and reporting.

In 2026 we plan to look into auto loading of catches reported in Sullissivik.gl to GFJK's database, which will save processing time.
